

Design Services

Our designs are signatures of True Rugged. Our expertise is in key design issues critical to military and commercial industries worldwide.

Our engineering experience is real and so are the results we bring. We help our clients unlock value by designing equipment to battle the harshest and most severe elements. We've created new ways to harden, transform and increase the capabilities of wearable and man portable systems, and in the process propelled our customers into new industries.

Our website (www.mobilerugged.com) is an introduction to our products and services.

Mobile Rugged has experience to support you in every stage of the product lifecycle. From the products design development to final assembly, QC and testing, let Mobile Rugged help you to create your unique rugged solution.
